

7.3 Institutional Distinctiveness

Integrated structure: Patna University is not an affiliating university. It has integrated structure in undergraduate and post-graduate teaching. College teachers may be promoted as Professors and become even Dean of Faculty. They can supervise Ph. D. scholars. Intra movement of faculty members among various colleges and Post Graduate Departments is in practice at Patna University. Even the students of colleges get the benefit of being taught by a wide range of teachers. We work as cohesive unit in areas of sports, cultural and other social activities.

7.3 Institutional Distinctiveness

- Free Education to women: Our thrust is on free education for women to enhance the participation of women in higher education.
